Art Unit: 1761

With respect to the Information Disclosure Statement submitted May 23, 2002, the reference that was crossed out was not considered as it was not related to the claimed invention.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. It is noted that Applicant's claims do not exclude ingestibles that are bitter, but merely dictate that other flavors must be present.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gudas et al, Cumberland Packing Corp, Catania (EP 0582396), Yusuke (JP 61120690), and Turback (WO 88/06004).

Gudas et al disclose the use of sodium gluconate in chewing gum (see entire document).

Cumberland Packing Corp discloses the use of sodium gluconate in food products (see entire document).

Catania et al disclose the addition of a salt of gluconic acid to an ingestible product (see entire document, especially page 4, lines 16-24).

Yusuke discloses the addition of gluconate to water (see abstract).

Art Unit: 1761

Turback discloses the addition of calcium gluconate to seafood (see entire document , especially claim 2).

The claims differ as to the specific recitation of a flavor other than bitter.

All of the cited references contain flavors other than "bitter" as obvious components. That is, all of the food products contain other flavors such as "astringency, pungency, and sourness" as described by Applicant on page 5 of the specification.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to add a nontoxic salt of gluconic acid as taught by Gudas et al, Cumberland Packing Corp, Catania, Yusuke, and Turback to any orally ingestible product because the use of gluconic acid salts to improve flavor is conventional in the art and the salt is used for no more than its art-recognized function.

All of the claim limitations and arguments have been considered. None of them are seen as serving as basis for patentability.

No claim is allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
